RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR AN ORDER PERMITTING COURT SUPERVISED NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES OF THEIR OPT-IN RIGHTS

Succinctly put, Wayne Farms' position is not yet,¹ not all,² but some,³ soon,⁴ neutrally.⁵ Following factual introduction and discussion of the standard of review, this Response explains those positions in that order.

² Some Plaintiffs have no FLSA claim and the proposed class notice pins participation to some facts that do not support FLSA recovery – e.g. driving past a security guard. Others make claims based on very dissimilar facts.

⁵ The proposed class scope reads remarkably like a judicially endorsed solicitation handbill for one of the two competing lawyer groups, rather than a description of job classes paid

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs claim a wide variety of present or former employment at Wayne Farms' live chicken processing plant in Union Springs, Alabama. They assert claims, some of which belong to their bankruptcy trustees,⁶ and some of which are barred by a prior judgment of this Court,⁷ arising under the Fair Labor Standards Act (29 U.S.C. § 201, et seq.), as amended by the Portal-to-Portal Act of 1947 (collectively the "FLSA"), as recently interpreted in IBP, Inc. v. Alvarez, 546 U.S. 21, 126 S.Ct. 514, 163 L.Ed.2d 288 (2005). At last count, 76 of them, joined by more than 100 alleged co-workers, had asserted the same claims through other counsel in Agee v. Wayne Farms LLC, S.D. Miss. 2:06-CV-0268, filed December 13, 2006.⁸

by a contested timekeeping method. Wayne Farms provides a sample of a neutral notice in Exhibit 1 to this Response. Any notice should identify all counsel (or court-designated lead counsel) and the claimants' union representative.

Wayne Farms' Union Springs non-exempt, hourly-paid processing employees are and have been at all relevant times represented by the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union ("RWDSU") and covered by a collective bargaining agreement that sets their work hours, breaks and pay. They also are covered by many customs and practices that exist under that agreement and that are mandatory subjects of bargaining at the end of each contract term. Most relevant among them is Wayne Farms' practice, between April 2000 and February 2005, of paying an extra six minutes per day⁹ (known as "personal time") as compensation for the non-excludable¹⁰ donning, doffing and walking time of employees whose hours worked are measured by use of a "master card" and who have significant requirements to wear job-specific clothing and personal protective equipment ("PPE") that must be put on and taken off at work. In February 2005, the policy was expanded, detailed, and included in the RWDSU/Wayne Farms 2005-2008 collective bargaining agreement. In relevant part, it reads:¹¹

Section 5. Pursuant to prior discussions which did not result in an agreement on the subject, the Company adopted a custom and practice, effective April 10, 2000, of paying certain employees six minutes per work day for “personal time” and including that time in weekly overtime calculations, even though the pay was recognized to be for hours not worked. Desiring now to formalize this compromise, the parties agree as follows:

⁹ The Amended Complaint ignores this practice, though it is well known to most Plaintiffs, who see it on each paycheck stub.

(a) Each employee who works in a job classification listed in section 5(b) and who performs work on a particular day shall receive additional pay for hours not worked on that workday, equal to six minutes at his or her regular hourly rate of pay. This time, which is recognized to include time normally spent donning and doffing smocks, hair nets and other garments and equipment, need not be separately recorded. However, solely for purposes of this Agreement, the Company will calculate weekly overtime by treating the personal time paid as if it had been pay for hours worked.

(b) Based on the parties’ analyses of time required for preliminary and postliminary tasks, including but not limited to donning and doffing, only employees in these classifications are eligible for personal time pay: All employees who are paid from a master card either at the start of the shift, end of the shift or both are paid six (6) minutes per shift. The Company at its sole discretion may terminate this section with thirty (30) days written notice to the Union.

The point of “personal time” was to eliminate disputes about arguable daily minutes of FLSA “work” that the master card system misses. To its competitive disadvantage, Wayne Farms implemented and retained this policy while most competitors were refusing to pay anything for these daily minutes, arguing here and elsewhere that the FLSA requires no such payment.¹²

¹² Anderson, et al. v. Perdue Farms, Inc., M.D. Ala. No. 1:06-CV-01000-MEF-WC; Bonds v. Gold Kist, N.D. Ala. No. 3:06-CV-1981-IPJ; Carlisle v. Gold Kist, N.D. Ala. No. 4:06-CV-1982-CLS; Atchison v. Gold Kist, N.D. Ala. No. 4:06-CV-1983-PWG; Ackles v. Tyson Foods, N.D. Ala. No. 1:06-CV-2249-KOB; Benford v. Pilgrim’s Pride, N.D. Ala. No. 5:06-CV-2337-TMP; Dobbins v. Tyson Foods, N.D. Ala. No. 4:06-CV-4912-RDP; Buchanan v. Tyson

Plaintiffs say, clearly and wrongly, that Wayne Farms pays all its Union Springs 1st and 2nd processing¹³ employees only the daily minutes captured by use of a master time card¹⁴ and say implicitly that, if Wayne Farms had recorded additional daily minutes the Plaintiffs worked, the total time worked would have exceeded the FLSA's 40-hour weekly threshold for overtime compensation, thus triggering FLSA liability.¹⁵ They ask the Court to find those missing daily minutes in these spots:

1. Time between an allegedly intrusive security check near the property entrance and the swipe of the master card used to record the employee's work hours;¹⁶
2. Alternatively, time beginning with the donning of job-specific, required clothing and PPE before the start of the shift and the swipe of the master card used to record the employee's work hours;¹⁷
3. Time between release from work at the beginning of unpaid breaks during the shift and the moment when all job-specific clothing and PPE required to be removed is doffed;¹⁸

Chicken, N.D. Ala. No. 1:06-CV-4930-KOB; Potter v. Tyson Chicken, N.D. Ala. No. 4:06-CV-4931-TMP; Burtram v. Tyson Chicken, N.D. Ala. No. 2:06-CV-4932-LSC. Wayne Farms does not contend that its competitors have FLSA liability. The point is that Wayne Farms decided to resolve the uncertainty in employees' favor, in order to avoid just such a suit as this.

¹³ The Amended Complaint seems to assume, wrongly, that 1st and 2nd processing jobs are identical across all poultry producers. In fact, they differ somewhat from plant to plant.

¹⁴ Amended Complaint, Doc. 44, ¶ 19 at 12. In fact, some processing workers' hours are recorded by master card swipes; others' are not.

4. Time spent re-donning job-specific clothing and PPE on the way back to the work station at the end of each unpaid break;¹⁹
5. The entire time of the unpaid break, if the donning and doffing just mentioned consume so much of the break that the time remaining is less than the FLSA requires for a lawful unpaid break;²⁰ and
6. Time between release from work at the end of a shift and the doffing of job-specific clothing and PPE that must be removed before leaving the plant.²¹

Wayne Farms believes that (1) is untenable as a matter of settled law,²² that (2) and (6) are unavailable due to § 203(o)²³, that (5) cannot be supported by a preponderance of credible evidence, and that (3) and (4), as well as any error of exclusion of (1) and (6) minutes, are fully compensated by its personal time pay practice. Consequently, Wayne Farms believes that it has no FLSA liability and that the few cases successfully brought against other poultry processors are not analogous. Wayne Farms this week will complete production of the union contracts, personnel files and payroll information for all who have joined this action to the date of its gathering in March 2007, so there should be no dispute about the jobs each of those Plaintiffs held, the daily and weekly hours paid, at what rates, and the daily arrival and departure badge swipes of those Plaintiffs versus the master card swipes made for them.

On March 5, 2007, Plaintiffs filed the instant motion (Doc. 39) asking the Court to supervise notice to prospective plaintiffs as authorized by 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Plaintiffs ask this Court for permission to solicit a broad, amorphous class of “similarly situated” current and former Union Springs employees, apparently not excepting those who are already represented by other counsel in Mississippi.

Wayne Farms will not oppose issuance of class notice at the right time, to the right individuals, and in an appropriately neutral manner. For the reasons discussed below, however, Wayne Farms does oppose the immediate “shotgun” solicitation of additional claimants advocated in Plaintiffs’ filings.

II. PLAINTIFFS’ BURDEN: IS EARLY, BROAD CLASS NOTICE PRUDENT JUDICIAL MANAGEMENT?

A. A Matter of Discretion

Like other judicial management questions, the decision to supervise an opt-in notice under 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) and the drafting of that notice are committed to courts’ sound discretion. Hoffmann-LaRoche, Inc. v. Sperling, 493 U.S. 165, 169, 110 S. Ct. 482, 486 (1989); see Reed v. Mobile County School Sys., 246 F. Supp. 2d 1227, 1230-31 (S.D. Ala. 2003). Exercising this discretion, courts typically require the movants to demonstrate first that they are part of a larger group of people who have the same FLSA claims. See, e.g., Dybach v. State of Florida Dept. of Corrections, 942 F.2d 1562, 1567-68 (11th Cir. 1991); Grayson v. K-Mart Corp., 79 F.3d 1086, 1096 (11th Cir. 1996). This requires that “a plaintiff must make some rudimentary showing of commonality between the basis for his claims and that of the potential claims of the proposed class, beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions.” Marsh v. Butler County School Sys., 242 F. Supp. 2d 1086, 1093 (M.D. Ala. 2003); accord Holt v. Rite Aid Corp., 333 F. Supp. 2d 1265, 1270 (M.D. Ala. 2004).

B. A Two-Step Process

The Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals has “suggest[ed],” but has not necessarily required, that district courts evaluate the appropriateness of § 216(b) class certification in two stages—a notice stage and a decertification stage. Hipp v. Liberty Nat’l Life Ins. Co., 252 F.3d 1208, 1218-19 (11th Cir. 2001). At the notice stage, which is applicable here, Plaintiffs’ burden, while not heavy, is not minimal, either. See Reed, 246 F. Supp. 2d at 1236 (“the burden on the plaintiffs is described as ‘not heavy,’ a relaxed burden but not a ‘minimal’ one.”). Even at this stage of the litigation, courts scrutinize the proposed class and notice for several practical reasons. First, “[i]t would be a waste of the Court’s and the litigants’ time and resources to notify a large and diverse class only later to determine that the matter should not proceed as a collective action” Freeman v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 256 F. Supp. 2d 941, 945 (W.D. Ark. 2003). See also West v. Border Foods, Inc., 2006 WL 1892527, at *7 (D. Minn. July 10, 2006) (“[N]either the remedial purposes of the FLSA, nor the interests of judicial economy, would be advanced if we were to overlook facts which generally suggest that a collective action is improper.”). Second, “[t]he courts, as well as practicing attorneys, have a responsibility to avoid the ‘stirring up’ of litigation through unwarranted solicitation.” D’Anna v. M/A-COM, Inc., 903 F. Supp. 889, 894 (D. Md. 1995) (citation omitted); see also Holt v. Rite Aid Corp., 333 F. Supp. 2d 1265, 1275 (M.D. Ala. 2004). Finally, “an employer should not be unduly burdened by a frivolous fishing expedition conducted by plaintiff at the employer’s expense.” D’Anna, 903 F. Supp. at 894.

Even at the notice stage, courts have applied a higher standard—akin to that normally used in the decertification stage—when, as here, a significant amount of discovery has occurred. See Davis v. Charoen Pokphand (USA), Inc., 303 F.Supp. 2d 1272, 1276 (M.D. Ala. 2004) (rationale for “lenient” standard “disappears once plaintiffs have had an opportunity to conduct discovery”); see also Brooks v. BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc., 164 F.R.D. 561, 566 (N.D. Ala. 1995) (analyzing class certification in light of extensive discovery by plaintiff); Fox v. Tyson Foods, Inc., No. 4:99-CV-01612-VEH, slip op. at 10-12 (N.D. Ala., Nov.

15, 2006) (after substantial discovery, “certification of the Plaintiffs’ class under the more lenient standard of the first-tier in Hipp would be unjust . . . [and] contrary to the interests of judicial economy.”); accord White v. Osmose, Inc., 204 F.Supp. 2d 1309, 1313 n.2 (M.D. Ala. 2002). Such is the case here. When this motion is argued before the Court, Plaintiffs will have obtained a great deal of relevant discovery showing who are and who are not similarly situated. Wayne Farms already has responded to hundreds of Plaintiffs’ written discovery requests.

Should the Court consider present discovery insufficient to justify application of the higher standard of review, Wayne Farms asks the Court to direct further discovery on the issue of whether the plaintiffs and the co-workers they would solicit are similarly situated. This is within the court’s authority pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. 26. See Amey v. Gulf Abstract & Title, Inc., 758 F. 2d 1486, 1505 (11th Cir. 1985) (Trial courts have wide discretion to determine discovery scope.).²⁴

III. WAYNE FARMS’ ARGUMENTS

Plaintiffs’ present attempt at class notice is premature and overbroad. The Court should not assist or permit solicitation of people already represented by other counsel, and neither Wayne Farms nor the Court should be required to slog through months of discovery and motions on legally untenable or factually unsupportable claims and claimants, simply because Plaintiffs are unwilling to wait even a few weeks so that this case can be coordinated with other identical litigation against Wayne Farms, a workable class definition can be tailored, and a fair class notice can be drafted and approved.

Nonetheless, some prospective Plaintiffs, described below, while wrong on the merits, are in the same position to argue about those merits as some already here and as some about to arrive, and thus may soon be entitled to receive a truly neutral and factual notice of opt-in rights.

A. Not Yet

The Court should not entertain class notice arguments until all Union Springs plaintiffs who have consented to sue are before one Court, in one proceeding. That is not the case today, but it very soon will be. On March 23, 2007, an order was entered in the Agee litigation, transferring 200 Union Springs claimants (some of whom are represented by other counsel, and some of whom are purportedly represented by two separate groups of counsel) to this Court. See Agee, Doc. 42, filed March 23, 2007. The Court should not authorize distribution of class notice until the Alabama Agee plaintiffs and their chosen counsel have been afforded a full and fair opportunity to participate in class notice arguments. This will come at the cost of a very short, if any, delay in these proceedings.²⁵

Plaintiffs argue that every day that passes without court-authorized notice causes Union Springs employees who are unaware of their rights, and who would sue if they had notice, to lose claims due to the applicable two or three year time bar. (Doc. 39 at 13.) But Plaintiffs' concern is more theoretical than real. Wayne Farms' Union Springs employees have been solicited at least three times in the last three years²⁶ to file FLSA claims, and they are represented by a Union which addressed the issue for them in collective bargaining in early 2005. More than 500 are current claimants here and/or in the Agee case. Named Plaintiff Darren Anderson and others have sued both here and in Agee. Some sued Wayne Farms in Scott, in Agee and in this case. It is unlikely that any significant number of prospective plaintiffs have failed to join one or more of these suits for lack of notice.

Given the small risk of claim preclusion, the Court should allow Wayne Farms to brief the class notice issues with the benefit of some discovery of the Plaintiffs. As of yet, they have not responded to the written discovery served on them in late February and their initial disclosures, served in mid-March, named no witness and neither served nor identified a single document. This puts Wayne Farms at a significant and unfair disadvantage in arguing this motion. Plaintiffs this week will have reams of records disclosed by Wayne Farms. Wayne Farms has identified its payroll and personnel witnesses and has described its relevant systems in sworn interrogatory answers. Plaintiffs have given Wayne Farms nothing.

Issuing class notice now, based on a record devoid even of initial disclosures by Plaintiffs, may lead the Court to invite joinder by many people who have no arguable FLSA claim or whose circumstances so differ from others' that they must be dismissed or severed, after much wasteful discovery and motion expense. It would prefer one plaintiff counsel group to another, prompting the other, perhaps, to demand separate notice in a separate, duplicate case before the Court. It would complicate and perhaps deprive this Court and Judges Proctor and Johnson of the opportunity to consolidate all Wayne Farms cases for pretrial proceedings. This Court correctly answered Plaintiffs on March 6: "Not yet."

B. Not All

Although the proposed class scope can be read several materially different ways,²⁷ Plaintiffs plainly seek the Court's authorization to solicit all or virtually all hourly-paid Union Springs 1st and 2nd processing employees. If the Court concludes that class notice should issue, not all sought by Plaintiffs should receive that notice.

Plaintiffs begin by defining the class as:

[A]ll current and former 1st and 2nd processing employees who worked for Defendant at any time within the last three (3) years, whose hours worked were recorded under a wage compensation system in which individual employee time clock punches are not the basis for starting and ending hours worked but instead are recorded under a system known as line time, master time, master key, gang time, etc., collectively referred to herein as "master time", and who were subjected to Defendant's practice and policy of not paying for work described above and any overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of forty (40) as a result of this practice.

Doc. 39, ¶ 4. Notwithstanding this professed limitation on the scope of the class, Plaintiffs elsewhere plainly seek the Court's assistance in soliciting all Union

Springs 1st and 2nd processing employees.²⁸ Quoting from Plaintiffs' motion to authorize class notice (Doc. 39):

- “All hourly employees are interchangeable and they are required to work open positions throughout the plant as production requirements dictate. Therefore, employees do not have set job responsibilities and all employees within 1st or 2nd processing perform similar tasks and thus are alike.” (Doc. 39 at 10.)
- “Plaintiffs observed that Defendant paid all of their co-employees/1st and 2nd processing employees in the same regard. Thus, as a result, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated 1st and 2nd processing employees did not receive compensation for all hours worked. . . .” (Id. at 11.)
- “Plaintiffs seek authorization to facilitate notice to each of Defendant’s 1st and 2nd processing employees who were subjected to the illegal pay practices described above at any time within the last three (3) years.” (Id. at 12.)
- “There are questions of law or fact common to Defendant’s other 1st and 2nd processing employees and the claims of the named Plaintiffs in the instant matter.” (Id. at 19.)

Plaintiffs conclude:

Here, Defendant employed numerous 1st and 2nd processing employees in Union Springs, Alabama. At some period of time during the last three (3) years, each of these 1st and 2nd processing employees performed labor for Defendant which included assisting in the processing of chickens. These 1st and 2nd processing employees were paid on an hourly basis, and regularly were not paid for all hours worked and worked more than forty (40) hours per workweek. As a result of this practice, Defendant regularly failed to pay their 1st and

2nd processing employees proper compensation owed as required by the FLSA.

Id. at 20.

So, if an employee worked at Union Springs as a 1st or 2nd processing employee and assisted in processing chickens, he or she is at least potentially in Plaintiffs' crosshairs.²⁹ That is simply too broad and undefined a class on which to base an FLSA collective action.

The touchstone for establishing the appropriateness of a FLSA collective action is whether the putative class members and the named plaintiffs are similarly situated. See Dybach v. State of Florida Dept. of Corrections, 942 F.2d 1562, 1567-68 (11th Cir. 1991). Although a plaintiff need not point to a particular plan or policy to show that he and the proposed class are similarly situated, "a plaintiff must make some rudimentary showing of commonality between the basis for his claims and that of the potential claims of the proposed class, beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions." Holt, 333 F. Supp. 2d at 1270 (emphasis added) (citations omitted); Horne v. United Servs. Auto. Assoc., 279 F. Supp. 2d 1231, 1234 (M.D. Ala. 2003) (same). "Without such a requirement, it is doubtful that § 216(b) would further the interests of judicial economy, and it would undoubtedly present a ready opportunity for abuse.” Holt, 333 F. Supp. 2d at 1270. Moreover, “the burden is on the plaintiffs to make an evidentiary showing that they and the proposed class are similarly situated, not on the defendant to disprove such similarity.” Reed, 246 F. Supp. 2d at 1232 (emphasis added).

Section 216(b) reflects a policy of judicial economy whereby the “judicial system benefits by efficient resolution in one proceeding of common issues of law and fact arising from the same allegedly discriminatory activity.” Hoffmann-La Roche, 493 U.S. at 170 (emphasis added). If efficiency and conservation of judicial resources are to be realized, however, common issues must control. In the overbroad class Plaintiffs propose, too many disparate and individual factual disputes would have to be resolved at trial. Courts have found such cases inappropriate for collective action status:

. . . Plaintiffs seek to represent a class of assistant managers who, as contended, were subject to deviations from Title Max’s official overtime policy. In the absence of any evidence tending to show that Title Max routinely breached FLSA’s overtime provisions, such deviations are then, by their very nature, highly case-specific and subject to a variety of variables, including whether the store manager neglected to enforce the overtime policy and/or whether the assistant manager failed to report his or her overtime hours. The individualized analysis of overtime compensation runs directly counter to “the economy of scale envisioned by” collective treatment of substantially similar employees under § 216(b) of the FLSA.

Saxton v. Title Max of Alabama, Inc., 431 F. Supp. 2d 1185, 1189 (N.D. Ala. 2006) (emphasis added) (denying conditional class certification). See also Guerra v. Big Johnson Concrete Pumping, Inc., 2006 WL 2290512, at *3 (S.D. Fla. May 17, 2006) (Noting that broad collective action may be inappropriate where a plaintiff alleges “a more discrete or particularized pay violation, for example, if supervisors or local managers had informally docked employees’ pay in contravention of an otherwise lawful company policy.”); Harrison v. McDonald’s Corp., 411 F. Supp. 2d 862, 871 (S.D. Ohio 2005) (Noting that defendant raised a “valid concern” that the “fact-intensive, individualized inquiry” necessary for resolution of the matter was “not amenable to collective action.”); England v. New Century Financial Corp., 370 F. Supp. 2d 504, 507 (M.D. La. 2005) (“A court may deny [a collective action] if the action arises from circumstances purely personal to the plaintiff, and not from any generally applicable rule, policy, or practice.”) (footnote omitted); Sheffield v. Orious Corp., 211 F.R.D. 411, 413 (D. Or. 2002) (“[A]n action dominated by issues particular to individual plaintiffs can not be administered efficiently because individual issues predominate over collective concerns.”); Ulvin v. Northwestern Nat’l Life Ins. Co., 141 F.R.D. 130, 131 (D. Minn. 1991) (“Given the disparities among Ulvin and the thirty opt-ins,” including age, year of termination, division and office, and supervisors, “the court concludes that they are not similarly situated, and that these cases are unsuited for class action.”) (ADEA case).

Broad, amorphous classes like the one(s) proposed by the Plaintiffs have been questioned by numerous courts. For example, in Reed v. Mobile County School Sys., 246 F. Supp. 2d 1227, 1231 (S.D. Ala. 2003), the trial court denied the plaintiffs' motion for conditional class certification and issuance of court-supervised notice—at the notice stage—where the proposed class was identified as “all non-exempt employees of the defendant” who may have been owed overtime compensation. In denying conditional certification, the court pointed out that no broader class under the FLSA could have been identified:

. . . the Court rejects any suggestion that, as a matter of law, every non-exempt employee is necessarily similarly situated to every other non-exempt employee of the same employer. Were this proposition true, no evidence would ever be required to satisfy the similarly situated requirement in the FLSA context; yet the courts have made plain that such evidence is required.

Reed, 246 F. Supp. 2d at 1231; see MacKenzie v. Kindred Hosp. East, L.L.C., 276 F. Supp. 2d 1211, 1221 (M.D. Fla. 2003) (describing as “overbroad” proposed class not limited by job titles, job duties, location, or time period).

As the court noted in Reed, “different jobs generally carry different responsibilities and often require different hours of employment, undermining the similarity between employees.” 246 F. Supp. 2d at 1232. In the last three years, Wayne Farms has had 96 different job titles for its hourly Union Springs processing employees.³⁰ Though not conclusive, this supports skepticism about Plaintiffs' claims that all processing jobs are fungible.

Joinder of the entire pool of 1687³¹ Union Springs prospective plaintiffs who hold or who held hourly-paid, non-exempt, processing jobs at Wayne Farms' Union Springs plant within the last three years would require discovery and motions about:

- 96³² different job titles;
- 7 different methods of recording hours worked;
- 2 different points of plant entry for employees coming into the plant from the parking lot;
- 20 different sets of job-specific, required clothing and PPE;
- 16 different places of clothing/PPE pick-up and drop off; and
- 2 different break rooms.³³

Even if the Court limited the case to present Plaintiffs and their present positions, it would find:

- 174 paid personal time vs. 165 not paid personal time;³⁴

³¹ This number includes Plaintiffs who worked for the Union Springs plant since March 1, 2004. See Exhibit 3.

³³ See Exhibit 2.

- 6 who receive “sunshine pay” vs. 333 who do not;³⁵
- 18 who are not even 1st or 2nd processing employees, but are sanitation, shipping, or maintenance workers;³⁶
- At least 6 who clearly lack standing to bring all claims asserted because of a recent bankruptcy case;³⁷ and
- At least 96 whose claims are barred, at least in part, by the preclusive effect of their previous settlements in Scott v. Wayne Farms, No. CV-05-80 (M.D. Ala.).³⁸

All these differences require individual discovery, motions and proof.³⁹

Furthermore, Plaintiffs’ refusal to dismiss voluntarily the claims that belong to bankruptcy trustees, their refusal to dismiss voluntarily the claims of Plaintiffs paid “sunshine pay,” their refusal to dismiss voluntarily the claims barred by res

³⁴ These numbers are drawn from Exhibit 4. It is a summary snapshot of Plaintiff payroll and personnel information current as of its recent assembly.

³⁵ See Exhibit 4. For a list of all sanitation workers at Union Springs, see Exhibit 3. It is important to differentiate between the “personal time” system discussed above, and the “sunshine pay” program referred to here. Wayne Farms’ “personal time” system pays each employee to which it applies an extra six minutes per day to account for otherwise non-excludable donning, doffing, and walking time that is not captured by the master time card. The “sunshine pay” program is an incentive for graveyard shift work that applies only to sanitation workers. Under this program, sanitation workers are permitted to finish their assigned work and go home early, yet are paid for their full scheduled shifts. Thus, the employees who receive “sunshine pay” are paid for more than their hours actually worked. It is difficult to discern how such an employee could successfully quibble about minutes per day, or could be considered similarly situated to other hourly processing employees.

³⁷ See note 6. When we complete bankruptcy checks of all Union Springs claimants, we expect that this number will be commensurately larger.

judicata, and their refusal to dismiss voluntarily claims that are clearly time-barred will require Wayne Farms and the Court to bear significant individual discovery and motion burdens even if no class notice is ever issued.

As noted above, Plaintiffs attempt to avoid this problem by asserting that all of them routinely move between different processing jobs. That assertion, unsupported by any specific evidence, is false. See Declaration of Bert Willingham, Exhibit 2 to this response. These are union-represented employees. If Wayne Farms whimsically shuffled people as claimed, it would receive daily grievances on that issue.

Other conclusory assertions of the 56 declarants supporting early class notice are just as weightless. They are, in order of their verbatim recitation in each pre-printed declaration:

- All hourly-paid 1st and 2nd processing employees perform work that “is similar in nature regardless of employees’ titles, supervisor or department,” Doc. 39, Ex. B1, every Declaration, ¶ 5;
- The hours worked of all 1st and 2nd processing employees “are recorded . . . under a system known as line time, master time, master key, gang time, etc.,” Doc. 39, Ex. B1, every Declaration, ¶ 7;
- As a result, the declarant was always paid for less than all hours worked, and was not paid FLSA-mandated overtime when the missed minutes exceeded the 40 hour weekly overtime threshold; Doc. 39, Ex. B1, every Declaration, ¶ 8; and

- “[N]umerous co-employees” worked the same hours and were paid the same way; Doc. 39, Ex. B1, every Declaration, ¶ 9.

No declarant acknowledges or addresses any of the material distinctions described above and none admits to having received personal time pay, though 32 of the 56 received it.⁴⁰ Such declarations are no different than lawyer pleading, and carry as little weight. See, e.g., West, 2006 WL 1892527, at *9 (Denying conditional class certification, noting the “individualized nature of the alleged violations, along with the absence of evidence to support the Plaintiffs’ conclusory assertion of widespread violations. . .”) (emphasis added); Dudley v. Texas Waste Sys., Inc., 2005 WL 1140605, at *2 (W.D. Tex. May 16, 2005) (holding complaint and affidavits containing unsupported allegations of improper lunch break adjustments insufficient); Harper v. Lovett’s Buffet, Inc., 185 F.R.D. 358, 363 (M.D. Ala. 1999) (“On the basis of evidence supporting possible FLSA violations at one restaurant and unsupported allegations of widespread wrongdoing at ⁴⁰ See Exhibit 4. Wayne Farms does not contend that the 56 declarants have no relevant knowledge, only that they have not offered it in their declarations here, for which they are not to blame. It appears that these declarations, like the motion they are intended to support, were drafted in general, conclusory terms so that the same forms could be used over and over again to support class notice issuance in all of their counsel’s 18 pending FLSA collective actions, changing only the defendant names and declarant signatures. Compare Plaintiffs’ motion and declarations here with the corresponding filings in Belue v. Wayne Farms LLC, N.D. Ala. 4:06-CV-2095, Doc. 28, filed February 20, 2007, in Benford v. Pilgrim’s Pride Corp., N.D. Ala. 5:06-CV-02337, Docs. 22-1, 22-4, filed February 13, 2007, in Carlisle v. Gold Kist, Inc. N. D. Ala. 4:06-CV-01982-CLS, Docs. 22-1 and 22-2, filed March 2, 2007, in Atchison v. Gold Kist, Inc., N. D. Ala. 4:06-CV-01983, Docs. 21-1 and 21-2, filed March 2, 2007, in Bolden v. Wayne Farms LLC, N.D. Ala. 5:06-CV-2096, Doc. 33, Ex. 1, filed February 19, 2007, and in Adams v. Wayne Farms LLC, M.D. Ala. 1:06-CV-0950, Doc. 50, Ex. 2, filed March 9, 2007.

Defendant's other restaurants . . . [the court cannot] find these individuals to be 'similarly situated' . . . or allow even the conditional class certification or provision of notice to such a huge, diverse class.").

Unlike the Plaintiffs' boilerplate declarations, the evidence to establish such claims would be factually distinct for each job classification and shift, if not each employee. See, e.g., Ray v. Motel 6 Operating Ltd. Partnership, 1996 WL 938231, at *5 (Noting the "significant manageability problems inherent in a trial of 1,000 plus individuals."). In a very similar case, one district court explained why the plaintiffs and putative class could not be similarly situated:

Unlike the Plaintiffs' first claim, alleging failure to pay overtime wages for scheduled hours worked in excess of 40 in a single workweek, the "off-the-clock" claim does not involve regularly scheduled time that is worked by all members of the class. Rather, each of the Plaintiffs may potentially claim that on any given day he or she arrived early or departed outside of their regularly scheduled hours and were not compensated for such. The circumstances of those individual claims potentially vary too widely to conclude that in regard to their "off-the-clock" claim, the Plaintiffs are similarly situated. The questions of fact will likely differ for each Plaintiff and will be unduly burdensome to both Defendant and to the Court in managing as a collective claim.

Lawrence v. City of Philadelphia, 2004 WL 945139, at *2 (E.D. Pa. April 29, 2004). See also West, 2006 WL 1892527, at *8 (Noting that "Courts from other jurisdictions have determined that where an 'off-the-clock' claim requires significant individual considerations, it may be inappropriate for conditional certification.") (emphasis added); Diaz v. Electronics Boutique of America, 2005

WL 2654270, at *5 (W.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005) (Noting that plaintiff's "'off-the-clock' claims require an examination by the Court of when he was scheduled to work, when he actually worked, whether he was paid for such and whether Ostrander altered his timesheets and, then, the Court would have to conduct the same inquiry as to each other class member.'").

The numerous individualized factual disputes outlined above, which go to the heart of whether the FLSA was even violated, make collective treatment inappropriate. Diaz, 2005 WL 2654270, at *5 (Noting that plaintiff's off-the-clock allegations, including that his timesheets were altered, "are too individualized to warrant collective action treatment."). Stated differently, "litigating this case as a collective action would be anything but efficient." Morisky v. Public Service Electric & Gas Co., 111 F. Supp. 2d 493, 499 (D.N.J. 2000).⁴¹

It would be a waste of this Court's time to issue class notice, manage discovery of hundreds or perhaps thousands of opt-in plaintiffs, only to find that they—like the 337 plaintiffs already here—represent vastly diverse claims and circumstances. See, e.g., Freeman v. Wal-Mart, 256 F.Supp.2d 941, 945 (W.D. Ark. 2003). Indeed, in recent years many courts have certified overly broad classes of FLSA plaintiffs too soon, only to have to decertify them later. To cite only a few examples:

⁴¹Wayne Farms anticipates that Plaintiffs will argue that any individual differences among class members do not render collective treatment inappropriate because these differences would merely go to the issue of damages. However, individualized questions of damages also render an FLSA action inappropriate for collective treatment. See, e.g., Brown v. Dolgencorp, N.D. Ala. No. 7:02-CV-00673-UWC (Doc. No. 707) (decertifying store managers' FLSA collective action because "The named plaintiffs cannot establish that they and the opt-in plaintiffs are similarly situated with respect to damages."); England, 370 F. Supp. 2d at 511 ("If liability is found, damages would necessarily require a case-by-case inquiry, thereby rendering it impossible to try this case as a collective class."); Sheffield, 211 F.R.D. at 413 ("[A] collective action certified on the facts presented thus far would be mired in particularized determinations of liability and damages, rather than collective consideration of common questions of law and fact.") (emphasis added).

- The more than 5,000 plaintiffs recruited in Fox v. Tyson Foods, No. 4:99-CV-1612-VEH (N.D. Ala.), yielded approximately 5,000 dismissals without prejudice, the transfer of seven separate, materially dissimilar actions to other judicial districts across the United States, and the setting of three separate jury trials in the home venue, expected to last four days each (Doc. No. 601, 602, 612, 613);
- The 2,470 opt-in class members recruited through court-supervised notice in Brown v. Dolgencorp, No. 7:02-CV-00673-UWC (N.D. Ala.) resulted in the dismissal of 2,450 claims and the settlement of 12 others (Doc. Nos. 703, 707), followed by two more lawsuits and the re-filing of more than 2,400 individual claims, each of which are to be tried separately. See Richter v. Dolgencorp, No. 7:06-CV-01537-LSC (N.D. Ala.); Gray v. Dolgencorp, 7:06-CV-1538-LSC (N.D. Ala.);
- The 2,157 opt-in plaintiff class members recruited through court-supervised notice in Anderson v. Cagle's, Inc., No. 1:00-CV-00166-WLS (M.D. Ga.) yielded 2,145 dismissals and 12 separate, materially dissimilar actions (Doc. No. 186); and
- The 261 opt-in plaintiffs from 13 states recruited through court-supervised notice in Smith v. Heartland Auto. Services, Inc., d/b/a Jiffy Lube, No. 0:04-CV-1403-RHK (D. Md.), resulted in 254 dismissals, litigation and settlement of seven separate actions in the home venue, and 232 individual claims in 13 other courts (Doc. Nos. 277, 450).

Despite the likelihood of a similar outcome here, Plaintiffs admit that they would rather solicit the entire Union Springs hourly workforce first, and put Wayne Farms to the expense of later clean-up. (See Doc. 39 at 18 and fn. 3.)

In summary, collective action proceedings make judicial management sense if and only if the named plaintiffs are truly representative of the plaintiffs they seek to represent—in other words, only if it is fair to infer all facts relevant to the claims of plaintiffs 2-200 from evidence about the claim of plaintiff 1. Only the strength of that inference justifies depriving the parties of the right to take discovery and to present trial evidence about each individual claim. If that inference is not fair, then the Court will face three bad alternatives: (1) deprive the parties of due process; (2) allow that individual discovery and proof, leading to a ball of confusion at trial, and probably before trial; (3) sever all dissimilar claims and dismiss all meritless claims after much wasted discovery and motion expense. As discussed immediately below, it may be appropriate to give notice of opt-in rights to “some” Union Springs employees. But clearly, “not all.”

C. Some

That Plaintiffs have asked too early for too much does not compel the conclusion that they are entitled to nothing, ever. When the Court has before it all of the more than 500 Union Springs claimants who have sued so far, Wayne Farms suspects, if the Court finds that some notice is worthwhile, it will have a discovery record that is likely to support notice issuance to some people who have not yet asserted a claim against Wayne Farms arising from IBP, Inc. v. Alvarez, 546 U.S. 21 (2005), and who share the following attributes with some of the current Plaintiffs:

- hourly-paid, non-exempt, knife-wielding debone line workers;
- employed at the Union Springs plant for at least one work week in the relevant limitations period;
- who, in at least one work week in the relevant limitations period, have had recorded hours worked of at least 39.50 hours (not counting personal time minutes);
- who, during the entire, relevant limitations period—
 - have had their paid start time and their paid stop time recorded by master card swipes;
 - have received six minutes per day personal time compensation;
 - have been required by Wayne Farms to wear while working cut-resistant PPE that must be donned and doffed at work, in addition to a smock, hair net, beard net and ear plugs;
 - have had a regularly-scheduled unpaid breaks of 45 minutes each regular shift;
 - have used the main employee break room for gathering before the shift and during those unpaid breaks;
- whose claims are not, in whole or in part, the exclusive property of a bankruptcy trustee or barred by preclusive effect of the Scott settlement; and,
- who did not fail to disclose, in a relevant bankruptcy proceeding, the existence of a timely, accrued claim as a personal asset.

Any employees thus situated who file consents to sue, through chosen counsel, by a Court-ordered deadline, should form a manageable class.

Knife-wielding debone laborers have the greatest requirements for job-specific clothing and PPE, including forearm guards, cut resistant gloves, etc. Limiting the class to them avoids the necessity to draw the line – left fuzzy by Alvarez – between a donning and doffing burden that constitutes “work” and a minimal burden that does not. They work in close proximity to one another and take similar walking paths to and from the same break room during unpaid breaks. All are paid for the hours recorded by their lines’ master card, plus six minutes per day “personal time.”

A more expansive class scope, as proposed by Plaintiffs, will require litigation, for example, of whether a live hanger who is not even required to wear a smock performs FLSA “work” when he chooses to wear one as a matter of personal preference. It will require the Court to decide in certification or decertification proceedings, or both, whose walking time to and from one of two break rooms is representative of which others’ walking time and how to draw that line without doing a time study. There will be other knotty problems that can be avoided by soliciting for class treatment only knife-wielding debone laborers. If present plaintiffs not within this scope want to litigate separately their individual claims, they may do so, but class notice should be limited to people who fairly may proceed collectively, and only claims relating to work weeks in those jobs should be treated collectively.

For the same reason, the Court should limit solicitation to those who are not subject to Wayne Farms' res judicata, bankruptcy standing or estoppel defenses. There would seem to be no point in soliciting debtors whose claims, in whole or substantial part, belong to a bankruptcy trustee or are barred by this Court's prior judgment or by failure to disclose them in a current or recent bankruptcy case. Litigation of those issues will be unavoidably individual.

If this case is to test the adequacy of Wayne Farms' personal time compensation policy for non-excludable donning, doffing, and walking time under Alvarez in one proceeding, then the aforementioned common attributes must be present. Wayne Farms considers class notice needless in this case, but will not otherwise oppose the issuance of class notice, at the appropriate time, to an appropriately defined set of individuals. But Plaintiffs' proposal for collective proceedings for all of Wayne Farms' hourly Union Springs processing employees—and potentially sanitation, shipping, and maintenance workers too, judging by the employees who have filed consents up to now—is simply not workable.

D. Soon

Wayne Farms maintains that class notice should not be entertained until each Union Springs plaintiff is litigating in only one court, preferably consolidated in one action, having chosen one attorney. This will happen soon.

On March 22, 2007, Judge Keith Starrett entered in the Agee case an order transferring all 200 Union Springs claimants to this District and Division.⁴² As soon as the transferred plaintiffs are assigned a docket number in this Court, Wayne Farms will move for consolidation of the cases and for appointment of lead Plaintiffs' counsel, so that each side will have lead counsel to coordinate and to dispute all pretrial matters. That is all the delay Wayne Farms considers necessary.

Wayne requests only that class notice proceedings be temporarily stayed, in keeping with this Court's admonition that counsel in the FLSA cases against Wayne Farms should try to keep all cases proceeding concurrently, so as to facilitate possible consolidation of pretrial proceedings before one judge. If Plaintiffs cooperate with the discovery served on them March 2, 2007, then by April 15, 2007 there should be a record adequate to support or refute the sorts of inferences discussed in Section III-B of this Response, leading, Wayne Farms suspects, to a class notice in each case very much like the sample notice that Wayne Farms offers here.

E. Neutrally

If and when that time arrives, then “[i]n exercising the discretionary authority to oversee the notice-giving process, courts must be scrupulous to respect judicial neutrality. To that end, trial courts must take care to avoid even the appearance of judicial endorsement of the merits of the action.” Hoffmann-La Roche Inc. v. Sperling, 493 U.S. 165, 174, 110 S.Ct. 482, 107 L.Ed.2d 480 (1989). It is the province of the Court to ensure that the class notice is appropriate—that it does not unduly stir up litigation, that it is factual and not misleading, and that it does not bear the implicit endorsement of the Court. See, e.g., Austin v. Cuna Mutual Insurance Society, 232 F.R.D. 601, 607-08 (W.D. Wis. 2006); Krueger v. New York Telephone Co., 1993 WL 276058 (S.D.N.Y. 1993) (specifying appropriate contents of notice).

Fifty-six Plaintiffs have sworn to the Court that no more of their co-workers have joined because of an alleged claim suppression campaign waged by Wayne Farms.⁴³ If Wayne Farms had done that, it would have to be judged a spectacular failure, given the more than five hundred Union Springs claimants here and about to be here. A more plausible explanation is that many of the union-represented employees who have not sued know and accept the deal they bargained for, know what the Scott plaintiffs got, and don’t think that this do-over will be worth their time and trouble. That opinion probably would not be changed by receipt of a lawyer's neutral notice of the case and relevant rights. But something that looks official and sounds encouraging might cause the same people to think, wrongly, that there is quick, easy money on the table. The Court should have no part of that sort of solicitation. Nor should the Court issue a class notice that names only one of two competing groups of lawyers representing members of the same local work force.

1. Objections to Plaintiffs' Proposed Notice

Wayne Farms objects to some things that are in the proposed notice and to the omission of other things. First, the Court's name should be removed from the masthead of the document. Captioning the document as an official "court document" gives the false impression that the notice comes from or is endorsed by the Court, and/or that the case has merit. See, e.g., Flores v. Lifeway Foods, Inc., 289 F.Supp. 2d 1042, 1046-47 (N.D. Ill. 2003) (refusing to approve notice that included the court and case caption).

Wayne Farms believes these passages encourage undue optimism about the prospects for recovery:

"who were not fully paid regular time or overtime for required . . .";

This implies a judicial finding that pay was due for each of the activities listed;

“the time it takes to clear security and the walk time thereafter . . . and time spent walking to and clearing security at the end of the day;”

This suggests that walking time to and from the plant entrance is “work” under the FLSA, an argument clearly rejected in the Supreme Court case on which Plaintiffs base this suit, IBP, Inc. v. Alvarez, 546 U.S. 21, 126 S.Ct. 514, 524, 527, 163 L.Ed.2d 288 (2005); see also note 23, infra;

“to assert their similar legal rights;”

This suggests that the recipient has the same rights to compensation, not just that Plaintiffs contend that they have such rights;

“The Court has not yet decided whether Defendant has done anything wrong;”

Compare this with, “The Court has not decided whether the Plaintiffs have the rights they claim.”

Other parts of Plaintiffs’ proposed form of notice provide only one-sided information to potential opt-ins. For example:

“However, you have a choice to assert your legal rights in this case;”

The false dichotomy presented is that one may assert her rights by joining the suit or do nothing; the truth is that one may sue now in this Court, through the present Plaintiffs’ lawyers, sue now in this Court through Agee plaintiffs’ lawyers, pursue the matter through one’s union now, do one of those things later, or do nothing.

“If money or benefits are later awarded in this case, you will not share in them;”

Again, only part of the truth is told. Plaintiffs’ form does not discuss the converse situation wherein if the recipient “does nothing,” and the collective action is lost on the merits, then the recipient can still sue Wayne Farms. And, if the notice recipient recovers in a separate case or through the union, that recovery need not be shared with those associated with this case; and

By “opting in,” you gain the possibility of receiving money or benefits that may result from a trial or settlement.

This is misleading, in that opt-ins don’t “gain [any] possibility” of recovery that they did not already have, and no such “possibility” is lost by choosing not to opt in. And again, only half the truth is told: if the Plaintiffs lose this case, then everyone who “opted in” loses too.

Wayne Farms also objects that the proposed notice solicits retaliation complaints, even though the First Amended Complaint contains no claim of retaliation and no credible evidence of retaliation has been offered.

Finally, Plaintiffs’ notice tells recipients who want to join this suit to return the consent form by a date certain, but does not say whether that is a date set for convenience of counsel or a date by which the Court has ordered that all consents must be filed with the Court. Our sample notice eliminates that ambiguity.

2. Wayne Farms' Sample Notice

Wayne Farms' sample notice, Exhibit 1, clearly distinguishes the Plaintiffs' claims from the statement of class scope. It clearly says that the Court has not made and will not soon make any ruling on the claims or defenses. Looking forward to consolidation of all Union Springs claimants in this case, our notice provides contact information for both groups of plaintiff counsel retained by Union Springs employees, as well as for their labor union representative. The notice also clearly discloses both relevant cut-off dates—the statute of limitations and the consent filing deadline. When the time and class scope are right, the Court should supervise issuance of this sort of truly neutral notice to prospective plaintiffs.

3. A Modest Proposal

Rather than decide disputes on their own, however, some courts have found it beneficial for the parties' counsel to meet, confer, and narrow their disputes with regard to the form and content of the class notice. See, e.g., Hoffmann-LaRoche, 493 U.S. at 172 (“Both the parties and the court benefit from settling disputes about the content of the notice before it is distributed.”); Pivonka v. Johnson County Bd. of Comm’rs, 10 WH Cas. 2d 1345 (D. Kan. 2005); Camp v. The Progressive Corp., 2002 WL 31496661 at *6, 8 WH Cas. 2d 477 (E.D. La. 2002); Krueger, supra, at *3. Wayne Farms endorses this approach, which is in accord with modern federal court practice. If the Court is inclined to authorize class notice and does not accept Wayne Farms' sample form of class notice, then Wayne Farms requests that this Court order all counsel—including all counsel who purport to represent any plaintiff(s) in this case—to meet in person and attempt to hash out a jointly proposed form of class notice.⁴⁴ The court should direct counsel for the Plaintiffs to file the class notice incorporating the parties' agreements within 30 days, then permit Defendant a reasonable period of time (e.g., 10 days) in which to file its objections, if any, to the proposed notice.

IV. CONCLUSION

Plaintiffs' counsel invite the Court to make a big mess bigger, by helping them solicit the remaining prospective Union Springs plaintiffs before other lawyers arrive here with their transferred clients, thus risking duplicate, conflicting, class litigation involving many people who have no FLSA claim and many others who have, at best, very different claims. Plaintiffs' motion is due to be denied without prejudice because it is premature and because the scope of a judicially economical class cannot be determined without reasonable discovery of the Plaintiffs or, alternatively, with prejudice because the proposed class is vastly overbroad.

⁴⁴ Yet another reason to begin class notice proceedings only after all Union Springs claimants and their counsel are before one Court, and no plaintiff is prosecuting claims in two suits at once.

WHEREFORE, Wayne Farms prays that the Motion (Doc. No. 39) will be denied.

Respectfully submitted this the 26th day of March, 2007.

Consent to Sue (Ex. 1B)

NOTICE OF LAWSUIT

Darren Anderson, Et Al. v. Wayne Farms LLC
M.D. Ala. Civil Action 2:06-CV-0951-MEF

Darren Anderson and other persons who claim to have been employed at the Union Springs plant of Wayne Farms LLC have filed in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama a lawsuit against Wayne Farms LLC. In this suit, they seek to recover compensation for some undetermined number of daily minutes that they say that Wayne Farms failed to count when calculating their weekly pay. These are minutes that they say they spent donning and doffing job-related clothing and personal protective equipment (PPE) and walking to and from their work stations before paid time began and after paid time ended.

You are receiving this notice because the Plaintiffs and Wayne Farms have determined that you might have worked in one of these jobs for at least one week since March 1, 2004. The jobs in question are:

- hourly-paid, non-exempt, knife-wielding debone line workers;
- employed at the Union Springs plant for at least one work week in the relevant limitations period;
- who, in at least one work week in the relevant limitations period, have had recorded hours worked of at least 39.50 hours (not counting personal time minutes);

- who, during the entire, relevant limitations period—
 - have had their paid start time and their paid stop time recorded by master card swipes;
 - have received six minutes per day personal time compensation;
 - have been required by Wayne Farms to wear while working cut-resistant PPE that must be donned and doffed at work, in addition to a smock, hair net, beard net and ear plugs;
 - have had one regularly-scheduled unpaid break of 45 minutes each regular shift;
 - have used the main employee break room for gathering before the shift and during those unpaid breaks.

If you have worked in a job just described for at least one week since March 1, 2004, you may have certain rights described below.

The Court hearing this case has made no determination about the merit of Plaintiffs' claims or about any defenses Wayne Farms has asserted. The parties anticipate that it will take some number of months, yet undetermined, to resolve those claims and defenses. However, the Court has set a deadline by which you, and others who held jobs described above, must inform the Court in writing, if you want to join the suit. This deadline is _____, 2007.

You may join the suit by completing the Consent to Sue form attached to this notice and returning it to one of the counsel listed at the end of this notice.

You must do this early enough to give the lawyer you choose the ability to file your Consent with the Court by the deadline date. Contact information for both counsel for Plaintiffs in this case appears at the end of this notice, as well as contact information for your union representative. You are free to contact, or not contact, any or all of them before you make your decision.

If you believe that you have a claim similar to the ones asserted in this lawsuit and you wish to assert that claim, you may do so by joining this action or by filing a separate action, either now or at some other time. If you want to raise this matter under the collective bargaining agreement covering your present or former employment with Wayne Farms, you must do that through your union representative.

There is an applicable statute of limitations for claims of the sort asserted in this suit. The parties disagree about whether it is two or three years. If you fail to join or file an action under the Fair Labor Standards Act within the applicable limitation period, you may not be able to recover for short paychecks, if any, that were issued to you longer ago than the limitations period allows.

Please remember, if you want to join this suit, you must deliver your written consent, on the form attached, to one of the lawyers listed below, in time for that lawyer to file your written Consent with the Court by the _____, 2007 deadline. Declaration of Bert Willingham

DECLARATION OF BERT WILLINGHAM

I, Bert Willingham, am an adult United States citizen residing in the State of Alabama. I am employed by Wayne Farms LLC as the Area Human Resources Manager for, among others, Wayne Farms' Union Springs, Alabama live chicken processing plant. I have personal knowledge of each fact stated in this declaration.

At the present time, at least 7 different methods of recording hours worked apply to people who work in hourly paid, nonexempt, first and second processing jobs at the Union Springs plant. There are two different entrances to the plant for these employees from the parking lot. Wayne Farms provides two different break rooms for these employees to use, and provides 16 different places for clothing and personal protective equipment pick up and drop off for these employees to use. For these employees, Wayne Farms has twenty different combinations of required, job-specific clothing and personal protective equipment.

The hourly paid, nonexempt, non-supervisory employees of Wayne Farms' Union Springs plant are represented by the RWDSU. The wages, hours and working conditions are determined by collective bargaining with that union, and their bargaining results are set forth in periodic collective bargaining agreements between Wayne Farms and the RWDSU. Those bargaining agreements provide for arbitration of grievances. The 2005-2008 agreement (submitted with this Declaration) was the first to CBA spell out this plant's long time practice of paying six minutes of daily "personal time" to people whose hours worked are recorded on a master time card for the line on which they work.

Although management of the Union Springs plant may temporarily reassign employees to jobs within the same department, for example, due to job rotation for economic reasons or to fill positions vacated by absent employees, employees are not moved between departments involuntarily, as a general rule. It happens, but very rarely. A debone line worker, for example, might be moved to a different position on the same debone line or to another debone line, but a debone line worker is not moved to the hanging line and a shipping employee is not moved to the debone line. The skills and requirements of those jobs are not interchangeable.

I declare under perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 26th day of March, 2007.

AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT is made and entered into this 27th day of February, 2005 by and between WAYNE FARMS LLC, for its plant located in Union Springs, AL, only (hereinafter referred to as the "Company") and Local Union No. 932 of the RETAIL, WHOLESALE AND DEPARTMENT STORE UNION, in its own behalf and in behalf of the bargaining unit employees of the Company at its plant at Union Springs, AL (hereinafter referred to as the "Union");

WITNESSETH:

That for the purpose of facilitating a peaceful adjustment of differences that may arise from time to time, and for promoting harmony and efficiency to the end that the employees, the Company and the General Public may be mutually benefited, the parties hereto contract and agree with each other as follows:

ARTICLE I - Recognition

Section 1. The Company recognizes the Union as the sole and exclusive bargaining agent with respect to wages, hours, and working conditions for all Production, Maintenance, and Shipping employees which the Union was certified to represent in NLRB Case No. 15-RC-4611, but excluding all Office Clerical employees, Watchmen and/or Guards, and all supervisory employees as defined in the National Labor Relations Act, as amended. The provisions of this Agreement shall be applicable with respect to bargaining unit employees only.

ARTICLE II - Check-Off

Section 1. The Company agrees that upon written application duly signed by members of the Union and filed with the Company it will deduct from the monthly earnings of each member of the Union who signs an authorization card dues and initiation fees in accordance with such authorization card and remit such monies to the Union. Such deductions are to be made equally from the earnings of the employee in the first fifty two (52) paychecks of each year for monthly dues and initiation fees.

Section 2. The Union will indemnify and save the Company harmless against any claim, demand, suit, or liability arising out or by reason of any action taken or not taken by the Company in deducting and remitting such dues and fees.

Section 3. This Article is subject to the applicable provisions of the Labor Management Relations Act.

ARTICLE III - Management Rights

Section 1. Except as specifically abridged, delegated, granted or modified by this Agreement, all of the rights, powers, prerogatives, and authority the Company had prior to the execution of the Agreement are retained by the Company and remain exclusively within the rights of Management and are not subject to the grievance arbitration procedures.

There shall be no oral or written agreements which shall in any way modify or conflict with the express terms of this Agreement.

The Management of the plant and the direction of the working force including the right to establish reasonable shop rules and regulations, right to hire, transfer, promote, suspend or discharge for just cause, the right to maintain discipline, assign and reassign employees to jobs, to transfer employees from department to department, to increase and decrease the working force, to subcontract work as we deem appropriate, to schedule work hours, to establish and from time to time modify or change incentive rates above and beyond the rates agreed to in Schedule "A", determine the product to be handled, produced, or processed, and means of production and the methods, processes, and means of production or handling; and to remove employees from duty because of lack of work according to seniority standing as herein provided; or for other legitimate reasons, is vested exclusively in the Employer, except as otherwise provided in this Agreement and provided that such action by the Employer will not be used for the purpose of discrimination against any employee or the Union.

The Employer reserves the unrestricted right to suspend or curtail the operation of the plant and to discontinue departments in whole or in part whenever in its judgment conditions warrant such suspension, curtailment or discontinuance. Insofar as practical, advance notice shall be given to the employees of such action.

ARTICLE IV - Non-Discrimination

Section 1. The Company and the Union agree that there will be no discrimination against any employee because of race, creed, color, age, sex, national origin, disability or Vietnam Era Veterans status in accordance with Federal, State and Local Civil Rights Laws or membership or non-membership in the Union.

Whenever any pronoun herein refers to employees or whenever the word "man" is used herein as a prefix suffix to a job classification title, it shall be interpreted and construed to mean male or female of singular or plural number as indicated by the context.

Section 2. The Company agrees not to discriminate, interfere with, restrain or coerce, either directly or through its agents, any employee in the right to form, organize, join or work for the Union. The Union and its members agree not to coerce or intimidate any person and not to solicit any person for membership in the Union on the Company's time.

ARTICLE V - Hours of Work

Section 1. (a) The regular work week shall be forty (40) hours per week.

(b) Employees working in hourly rated jobs shall be paid one and one-half (1-1/2) times the regular hourly straight time rate of pay for all authorized hours worked in one week in excess of forty (40) hours of work.

Section 2. An employee will not be laid off or sent home early during a work week for the purpose of offsetting extra hours which he has worked or is scheduled to work during such week.

Section 3. (a) An employee who reports for work at his scheduled starting time without having been notified not to report will be guaranteed three and one-half hours work at any available work or three and one-half hour straight time pay in lieu of work if less than three and one-half hours work is available. However, this guarantee shall not apply if:

(i) the lack of work is due to reasons beyond the Company's control, or
(ii) the Company was unable to contact the employee to notify him not to report.

(b) An employee who is called in to work after leaving the Company premises and before the start of his next scheduled shift will be guaranteed three hours work or three hours straight time pay in lieu of work.

(c) Hours paid for under this Section will be considered as hours worked.

Section 4. The Company shall make every reasonable effort to notify each employee of any known change in his next reporting time before such employee leaves for the day preceding the day on which such known change in his reporting time is to take place.

ARTICLE VI - Seniority

Section 1. A new employee or an employee hired after a break in continuity of service will be regarded as a probationary employee for the first sixty (60) calendar days and will not acquire any seniority or any rights or coverage under this Agreement until the employee has been employed sixty (60) calendar days. The Company will have the sole right to decide whether an employee is to be retained beyond sixty (60) calendar days. Dismissal of such new employees shall not in any way be subject to the grievance procedure. Insurance coverage can be obtained after sixty (60) days.

Section 2. Employees who are retained after the period of sixty (60) calendar days will accumulate plant seniority in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

(a) Plant seniority shall accumulate from the employee's last date of hire and shall include layoffs of less than twelve (12) months and approved absences which occur thereafter.

Section 3. In reducing the number of employees in the plant, seniority shall be recognized as follows:

(a) For any temporary layoff for a period of five (5) days or less, employees will be laid off without regard to seniority, as required by the Company.

(b) Where a reduction in the number of employees in the plant continues for longer than five (5) days, employees to be laid off shall be determined by plant seniority, subject to provision for effective plant operations. The employees with the least plant seniority will be laid off first, provided the remaining employees have the ability to perform the jobs available. Any employee not able to perform the jobs available will be laid off regardless of his seniority.

Section 4. The Company retains the right to transfer any employee to meet production needs, including the right to staff up any new or revised operation in such a manner so as not to disrupt the efficient operation of the plant. The provisions of this section applies to all employees and includes transfers from one job to another and transfers for the purpose of cross training employees.

Section 5. A reduction in the number of required employees resulting from a change in methods or processes or the combination and elimination of jobs will be handled in accordance with the procedures outlined in this Article the same as for any other reduction in number of employees.

Section 6. When the operations of the plant permit the Company to return employees to their regular jobs from which they have been temporarily laid off and additional employees are needed in the plant, then employees on lay-off are to be recalled before any new employees are hired. The employee with the greatest plant seniority will be recalled first, provided the employee has the required ability to do the job or that his recall will permit the transfer of another employee to the available job who has the ability to perform the job. Likewise, in all layoffs or recalls from lay-off provided for in this Agreement, due consideration must be given to the effective operation of the plant.

Section 7. Employees absent because of sickness or injury shall continue to accumulate their seniority for a period not to exceed twelve (12) months from the date of first absence except in the case of employee's absence because of industrial injury or illness who shall continue to accumulate seniority for a period not to exceed eighteen (18) months.

Section 8. If a permanent job vacancy occurs or a new job is created in any job classification, excluding the Waste Treatment job classification, it will be filled in the following manner:

(a) The job to be filled will be posted for two (2) working days. During this time, any employee may bid for another job classification. If more than one employee bids for the job, preference will be given to the employee with the greatest plant seniority if all other factors are relatively equal. The factors to be considered are ability and qualifications to perform the work. No employee shall be considered for the job unless in the opinion of the Company he has the ability to perform the job. Employees, who in the opinion of the Company, have the ability to perform the job will be given a reasonable period of time (depending on the nature of the job) not to exceed 15 days in order to perform the job to the satisfaction of the Company. If identical positions become available during a thirty (30) day period after the initial posting of the open position, the company may make the selection of an employee or employees to fill the job from the original list without reposting the position. Employees who are the successful bidders on any job vacancy shall not be allowed to bid for another job vacancy for a period of six (6) months from the date they are assigned to the bid job.

(b) If through the process of posting and bidding for job vacancies the job is not filled, then the Company shall assign the work to the employee with the least plant seniority who in the opinion of the Company is qualified to perform the work. If a job is filled in accordance with the above procedure, it shall be filled within seven (7) working days after the completion of the posting and bidding process. If there are no employees in the plant who in the opinion of the Company are qualified to perform the work the above time period shall not apply and the Company shall recall from layoff the employee with the greatest plant seniority who in the opinion of the Company has the ability to do the job. If there are no such employees on layoff then the Company may hire a new employee to fill the new or vacant job.

(c) No employee can bid on a job in the Maintenance Department unless he has satisfactorily passed a written job related maintenance test.

Section 9. An employee may be removed from a job because of inability to properly perform the job. Any employee so removed from a job may be transferred to an available job which he can perform in the plant. If no job is available, he will replace the employee in the plant who has the least seniority, provided he has more seniority. This section shall not be construed as a limitation on the right of the Company to suspend, to discipline, or to discharge for just cause.

Section 10. Any employee affected by the application of the rules of seniority shall be deemed to consent thereto, unless the employee files a grievance as provided for in this Agreement.

Section 11. Dated seniority lists shall be maintained and accessible to the employees every three (3) months.

Section 12. The parties recognize the need to maintain a stable work force while at the same time extending a limited opportunity for employees to move from the night shift to the day shift. The Company therefore agrees that if job openings develop on the day shift, one job per month will be made available for bid to employees on the night shift.

Section 13. An employee may be removed from a classified job or in maintenance reduced to the next level if after due deliberations between the Company and Union the employee is not performing tasks to the level of efficiency necessary for efficient operations and/or hindering other employees in performance of their tasks. Before an employee is removed from his job in accordance with this Section, Company representatives will meet to discuss the matter with three (3) members of the local Union Committee. If the parties are not in agreement following such discussion, the Company representative(s) will meet with a representative of the International Union before taking action to remove an employee from the job.

ARTICLE VII - Loss of Seniority

Section 1. An employee will lose his seniority and all rights as an employee in the event of any of the following:

(a) the employee quits;

(b) the employee is discharged for just cause;

(c) the employee fails to report absence to his Supervisor or the Superintendent prior to his shift and give good reason therefore; if such a report is not possible due to conditions beyond the employee's control, then he must report at the first possible opportunity, but in any event not longer than two (2) days; will be considered voluntary quit.

(d) the employee fails to return to work on expiration of a leave of absence, will be considered voluntary quit;

(e) the employee does not report for work within three (3) working days after being recalled from layoff. It will be the employee's responsibility to keep the Company advised of their current address and telephone number;

(f) the employee has not worked for the Company for any reason twelve (12) consecutive months except in the case of an employee's absence because of industrial illness or injury shall not have worked for the Company for eighteen (18) consecutive months, will be considered voluntary quit;

(g) the employee while absent on account of sickness or injury takes employment elsewhere, will be considered voluntary quit;

(h) if sick or injured, fails to furnish the Company with a doctor's certificate when requested by the Company. This provision applies only in case of extended illness or injury.

(i) permanent shutdown of the plant.

Section 2. In addition to the foregoing, an employee will lose his seniority where so provided in other provisions of this contract.

ARTICLE VIII - Grievance Procedure

Section 1: For the purpose of the Agreement, a grievance is defined as any dispute, misunderstanding, or difference arising between the parties concerning the meaning, interpretation, or the application of the specific terms or provisions of this Agreement. The Union agrees that Union Representatives will sign warning slips issued by the Company if requested to do so. If the Union Representative disagrees with the warning, the grievance procedure may be followed.

Section 2: Grievances shall be adjusted in accordance with the procedures in this section.

Any and all grievances shall be presented within five (5) working days after the occurrence of the event or condition upon which the grievance is based. Any grievance not appealed to the next succeeding step within the prescribed time limits shall be settled on the basis of the last Company answer.

Step I

The aggrieved employee and one (1) shop steward shall take up any grievance with their Supervisor.

Step II

If no settlement is reached in Step I and the Union wishes to process the grievance further, the aggrieved employee shall reduce the grievance to writing specifying the section of the contract alleged to have been violated, sign his name and deliver the grievance to a Grievance Committee member. The aggrieved employee and a Grievance Committee member shall then, within three (3) working days after Step I meeting, present the written grievance to the Shift Manager who shall make a written reply to the grievance within two (2) working days. Thereafter, if the written reply to the grievance is not acceptable, then the President of the Local Union, a Grievance Committee member, the aggrieved employee, the Shift Manager, and the Supervisor shall meet with five (5) working days of the date on which the written grievance was presented and attempted to dispose of the grievance.

Step III

If no settlement is reached in Step II and the Union wishes to process the grievance further, they must, within three (3) working days after the last Step II meeting, notify the Company of their desire for a Step III meeting. This Step III meeting shall take place within ten (10) working days after the Union gives notice of their desire for the meeting. The grievance shall then be taken up by the Representative of the International Union and the Grievance Committee with the Operations Manager or his designated representative.

ARBITRATION

If the grievance has not been settled in Step III and the Union wishes to process the grievance further, then the grievance may be submitted to arbitration, provided notice of intention to arbitrate is given the Company within five (5) working days after the final Step III meeting. The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding on the parties.

The Union and the Company will attempt to mutually agree upon an arbitrator. If they are not able to agree, the Union will then request the Federal Mediation & Conciliation Service to furnish a panel consisting of the names of seven arbitrators. If unable to agree upon one of the names of such panel, the Company and the Union shall alternately strike names from the panel until one name remains and the name thus remaining shall be the arbitrator to hear and decide the case. Each party will bear its own expenses of the arbitration and the fee and expenses of the arbitrator shall be paid jointly by the Company and the Union. The arbitrator shall consider only those issues which

ARTICLE X - Wage Rates

Section 1. The wage rates set out in Schedule "A" attached to this Agreement shall be the applicable regular hourly straight time pay for hours worked by employees having seniority regularly assigned to and working in the jobs set forth in such Schedule for the applicable time periods.

Section 2. If any employee is temporarily transferred from his regular job classification to a higher rated job classification for more than two (2) consecutive working days, the employee shall receive the rate of the higher rated job classification except where the employee is not qualified to perform the job and meet production standards. If the rate of the job to which he is temporarily transferred is less than the rate of the employee's regular job, there shall be no reduction in the employee's rate of pay.

Section 3. If the Company creates a new job or if it substantially changes the nature of an existing job so that the factors enumerated in (a), (b) and (c) of this Section below are substantially changed, the Company will place the new job and job rate in effect and will notify the Union of the rate established for the new or changed job. The International Union Representative may request a meeting with the Company representatives to discuss the matter.

If the Union does not agree with the rate as established by the Company, the Union may within three (3) weeks after such notice is received from the Company notify the Company of its intent to protest the rate and submit the dispute to arbitration. The arbitrator shall be selected in the same manner and under the same procedure as provided for arbitration of grievance under Section 2 of Article VIII of the contract.

Initially, the arbitrator shall have authority to determine only whether the rate established by the Company for the job is inequitable in terms of the rate structure for the plant involved as set forth in the rate schedule attached to this Agreement. The arbitrator, in determining this issue, shall consider the following requirements of the disputed job in comparison with the same requirements of other jobs have been carried through the proper steps of the grievance procedure. He shall be confined to the interpretation or application of the specific provision or provisions of this Agreement at issue and shall have no authority to add to, subtract from, modify or amend any provision of this Agreement. Only one grievance or issue may be presented to the arbitrator in any one arbitration proceeding.

Section 3. The Company will recognize not more than seven (7) employees who shall be designated by the Union as Union Representatives. Not more than five (5) of these Union Representatives shall serve on the plant Grievance or Negotiating Committees and not more than five (5) shall attend any meeting with representatives of the Company. The Company shall be kept informed of the personnel on the Grievance or Negotiating Committees at all times. No member of the Grievance or Negotiating Committees shall be paid for any time spent on Union business.

Section 4. The provisions of the Article are agreed upon and established as the sole and exclusive method and procedure for the assertion, presentation and handling of claims, grievances or disputes by an employee or employees and by the Union.

Section 5. Any award or payment of wages or back pay to an employee shall be less the amount of unemployment compensation and all other earnings, compensation, or money due to or received by the employee.

ARTICLE IX - No Strike or Lockout

Section 1. The Union agrees that during the term of this Agreement there shall be no strike of any kind nor any concerted slowdown or work stoppage.

Section 2. No employee shall participate in any strike, concerted slowdown or work stoppage during the term of the Agreement. Such participation by any employee shall be just cause for his dismissal or other disciplinary action by the Company. No such case of dismissal or other disciplinary action shall be subject to the grievance procedure.

Section 3. The Company for its part agrees that there shall be no lockout during the term of this Agreement.

in the plant and its findings on this issue shall be based only on such comparative analysis:

- (a) The degree of training, intelligence, and experience necessary to perform the job.
- (b) The initiative and responsibility required in performing the job.
- (c) The mental and physical skills and effort required to perform the job, and/or the physical hazards or discomfort for the job so long as such factors do not conflict with any state or federal law.

If under the procedure specified in the preceding paragraph the arbitrator should determine that the rate established by the Company is inequitable, then the arbitrator shall have the further authority to determine an equitable rate for the job. The rate determined shall be based entirely upon the same comparative analysis set forth in the preceding paragraph of the specified requirements of the disputed job relative to those same requirements of other jobs in the plant. The rate determined must be consistent with the rate structure established for other jobs in the plant set forth in the rate schedule attached to this Agreement and must not be such as will make the rate of any other job in the plant inequitable by comparison.

All notices required under the provision of this Section must be in writing.

No arbitrator shall be empowered to hear more than one rate dispute filed under this Section except in the case of rate disputes arising from a common origin and involving related or identical circumstances.

Section 4. A rehired employee who in the first 30 days meets production (line speed) and quality requirements will move up to the 6 month rate.

Section 5. Pursuant to prior discussions which did not result in an agreement on the subject, the Company adopted a custom and practice, effective April 10, 2000, of paying certain employees six minutes per work day for "personal time" and including that time in weekly overtime calculations, even though the pay was recognized to be for hours not worked. Desiring now to formalize this compromise, the parties agree as follows:

- (a) Each employee who works in a job classification listed in section 5(b) and who performs work on a particular day shall receive additional pay for hours not worked on that workday, equal to six minutes at his or her regular hourly rate of pay. This time, which is recognized to include time normally spent donning and doffing smocks, hair nets and other garments and equipment, need not be separately recorded. However, solely for purposes of this Agreement, the Company will calculate weekly overtime by treating the personal time paid as if it had been pay for hours worked.

- (b) Based on the parties' analyses of time required for preliminary and postliminary tasks including, but not limited to donning and doffing, only employees in these classifications are eligible for personal time pay: All employees who are paid from a master card either at the start of the shift, end of shift or both are paid six (6) minutes per shift. The Company at its sole discretion may terminate this section with thirty (30) days written notice to the Union.

ARTICLE XI - Holidays

Section 1. Eight (8) hours straight time shall be paid for each of the following holidays on which the employee is not called upon to work:

New Year's Day	Thanksgiving Day
Memorial Day	Christmas Day
Fourth of July	*Employee's Birthday
Labor Day	Floating Holiday

Homecoming Holiday/Martin Luther King's Birthday
 *An employee may elect to take this holiday on any day during the week in which it falls subject to the needs of the business and provided notice is given to the Company the previous week.

*An employee with six (6) months seniority will be eligible for one (1) floating holiday per year. The employee must request approval from his supervisor a minimum of two (2) weeks in advance.

Note: Homecoming Holiday will be observed the last time in October 2005. Beginning January 2007 Dr. Martin Luther King's Birthday will be substituted and observed as the paid holiday.

Section 2. An employee who has completed his probationary period will be paid eight (8) hours pay at his base rate of pay for a holiday specified in Section 1 hereof provided that:

- (i) He has not failed to work when scheduled on the holiday; and
- (ii) He works both his last regularly scheduled workday immediately preceding the holiday and his first regularly scheduled workday following the holiday; and
- (iii) He works sometime during the week in which the holiday occurs unless failure to do so results from an absence covered by the Weekly Income Insurance provision set forth in the attached Exhibit "B" Group Insurance Benefits.

Section 3. If any of the holidays specified in Section 1 hereof falls on a Sunday, the following Monday shall be recognized as the holiday.

Section 4. Holiday hours will not be considered as time worked in determining overtime.

Section 5. An employee who is on an approved medical leave of absence not to exceed thirty (30) days on the date that a holiday occurs, shall be deemed to have met the requirements of Section 2 of this Article and will be eligible for holiday pay.

ARTICLE XII - Vacations

Section 1. An employee who on the anniversary date of his employment with the Company has been in its employ for one (1) year shall receive vacation pay. An employee who works at least 1,400 hours scheduled work will be eligible for full (100%) vacation pay. An employee who works at least 900 scheduled work hours will be eligible for one-half (1/2) of their vacation pay.

Vacation eligibility shall be as follows:

One (1) year but less than two (2)	One week
Two (2) years but less than ten (10)	Two weeks
Ten (10) years but less than twenty (20)	Three weeks
Twenty (20) years but less than thirty (30)	Four weeks

Section 2. The date for employees' vacation shall be determined by the Company taking into consideration the seniority status and desire of the employee.

Section 3. The Company may schedule vacations so as to cause them to fall during any period of shutdown of the plant or portion thereof if, in the opinion of the Company, this scheduling will cause the least interference with plant operations.

Section 4. Vacations shall not be cumulative and an employee will not be permitted to join two (2) years vacations.

Section 5. Where a holiday occurs in the vacation period of any employee he shall receive the holiday pay as provided in Section 1 of Article XI, in addition to his regular vacation pay. In the event, however, an employee who is on layoff or leave of absence requests his vacation during a week in which a holiday occurs, he will not receive holiday pay in addition to his vacation.

Section 6. An employee who on the anniversary date of his employment with the Company has been in its employ for thirty (30) or more years and who has worked at least 900 of the scheduled work hours of his department during the twelve (12) month Company shall receive one additional day's pay (eight (8) hours) for each year of service beginning with the twentieth year but not to exceed a maximum of five (5) days pay.

Section 7. An employee may take earned vacation one (1) day at a time providing that he requests approval from his supervisor at least one (1) week in advance.

Section 8. All vacations for hourly employees will be scheduled by seniority. Each department will schedule vacations during January, February and March of each year. The Supervisor will start with the most senior employee and go down the list to the bottom. Any employee who does not select their vacation dates during their "scheduled time" will not be allowed to displace an employee for Vacation time and must select an available date on a first come first serve basis.

ARTICLE XIII - Leave of Absence

Section 1. For leaves of absence not covered by the Family and Medical Leave Act in Section 13.4, employees with more than sixty (60) days of continuous service may request an unpaid personal leave of absence, provided such leave is not for reasons involving other employment. Such leaves will only be granted, considering whether such request is reasonable. Personal leaves shall be for a term not more than thirty (30) continuous days.

Only one (1) personal leave per twelve (12) month period may be granted, except for extenuating circumstances which will require acceptable documentation.

Section 2. An employee who is elected or appointed to an office in the Union, upon request, may be granted a leave of absence for up to one year and during such one year period shall maintain and accrue seniority. Not more than four (4) such leaves of absences shall be in effect at any one time.

Section 3. Employees selected to attend International Union conventions shall, upon request therefor, receive time off without pay not to exceed two (2) weeks to attend the same. Not more than two (2) employees may be absent for such purposes at any one time.

Section 4. Family and Medical Leave. All employees who have twelve (12) months of service with the Company and have worked at least 1250 hours during the twelve (12) months preceding the commencement of the leave of absence will be granted a period of up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave. This leave will be granted for the birth of a child, placement with the employee of a child for adoption or foster care, or the care of a covered family member (spouse, child, or parent) who has a serious health condition; and for employees with a serious health condition. In such instances, the Company will follow applicable federal and state guidelines in reviewing and approving such leave requests.

All employees who have six months of service and are not eligible for Family and Medical Leave may be eligible for personal medical leave, in accordance with guidelines established by the Company.

ARTICLE XIV - Skilled Labor and Contracting

Section 1. Nothing in this Agreement will prohibit the Company from using skilled labor from any plant of Wayne Farms LLC nor from sending skilled labor to any plant for work on a temporary basis.

Section 2. Nothing in this Agreement shall prevent the Company from contracting with third persons for the performance of maintenance and construction labor and services required by the Company.

ARTICLE XV - Benefit Plans

Section 1. The Group Insurance Plan and the Retirement Income Plan of the Company as in effect for bargaining unit employees shall remain in effect for the term of this Agreement.

Section 2. The schedule of insurance benefits (Exhibit "B") and retirement benefits (Exhibit "C") is provided only as a summary and is not meant to replace or supersede the information which is provided in detail in the Certificate of Insurance and Retirement Booklet.

ARTICLE XVI - Military Service

Section 1. An employee who voluntarily enlists or is drafted into the military service of the Armed Forces of the United States of America shall be reinstated upon the termination of his service in accordance with the laws of the United States and the applicable state law in force at the time of such reinstatement.

ARTICLE XVII - GENERAL

Section 1. Each employee who works five (5) hours before lunch shall receive a fifteen (15) minute morning break scheduled as near as practical (consistent with operating requirements) to the middle of the first four (4) hours. Each employee who works at least three (3) hours before lunch but less than five (5) hours before lunch shall receive a fifteen (15) minute morning break scheduled during the second hour worked. Should an employee work eight (8) hours or more on any day or should an employee work in excess of three (3) hours after a lunch period that was scheduled after four (4) hours of work, he shall receive a ten (10) minute afternoon break scheduled as near as practical to the middle of the hours worked after his lunch break. If because of operating requirements the employee is unable to take his break period, he shall receive his pay in lieu thereof.

Section 2. Drinking fountains and sanitary facilities will be maintained in the plant. The employees and the Union will cooperate in maintaining the locker rooms, lunch rooms, drinking fountains, and sanitary facilities in a clean and orderly condition.

Section 3. An employee who is summoned for jury duty shall be paid for each hour (but not in excess of eight (8) hours in any one day) during the period Monday through Friday that he is required by reason of his duties as a juror to be absent from his employment with the Company a sum equal to the difference between his per diem jury fee divided by eight (8) and his regular straight time hourly wage rate. An employee in order to be eligible for pay under this paragraph shall notify the Shift Manager at the time he is summoned for jury duty and on the expiration of such jury duty must furnish satisfactory evidence of his total juror fees. The company and union agree to follow state and federal laws as it applies to jury duty pay.

Section 4. Supervisors or management employees excluded from the bargaining unit shall not perform bargaining unit work to the extent of replacing employees in the bargaining unit, except in the following situations:

1. Emergencies

2. Instructing or training employees
 3. Diagnosing and remedying production troubles
 4. Assisting employees to overcome operating difficulties
 5. Maintenance repairs
 6. Relieving employees temporarily
- Section 5. Should there be any equipment breakdown or if employees have to wait for chickens, the employees will be paid for all waiting time.

Section 6. The Company will furnish the maintenance employees the necessary hand tools to perform their job functions and will replace tools that are broken or worn out by the job activities. However, the employee shall replace at his cost tools that are broken or worn out through his abuse or negligence or tools that are lost.

Section 7. Warning notices that are over two (2) years old shall have no effect on future disciplinary action against the employees. Progressive discipline warnings shall have no effect after one (1) year on future disciplinary action against the employees.

Section 8. The Company will continue to furnish uniforms to the Maintenance employees according to the practices and policies established by the Company.

Section 9. The Company shall supply the following equipment to employees provided the employees turn in the used equipment to receive the replacement item and further provided their job requires the use of such equipment:

1. Aprons-one issue per month per employee.
2. Hair Nets-one issue per week per employee.
3. Gloves-one issue per month per employee working in the classification of Hanger and Unloaders in the back dock.

Section 10. The lunch period shall be forty-five (45) minutes in duration.

Section 11. Employees who fail to report an on-the-job injury at the time of the accident will be subject to disciplinary action by the Company.

Section 12. When an employee is summoned to the office for disciplinary or discharge a steward shall be pres-

ARTICLE XVIII - Union Notices

Section 1. The Company will provide space on one (1) bulletin board in the plant for use by the Union for posting official Union notices of meetings. All such notices must be approved in advance by a representative of the Company.

ARTICLE XIX - Union Access to the Plant

Section 1. An International Representative of the Union may visit the plant during working hours on the following basis:

1. Before entering the plant he shall contact the Shift Manager and obtain permission to enter the plant.
2. Such visits shall not interfere with production or work of any employee
3. Such visits shall relate to specific Company/Union business.
4. At the Company's option, the International Representative may be accompanied by a representative of management when in any production area of the plant.

ARTICLE XX - Safety Clothes & Equipment

Section 1. The Company will provide to employees without cost any safety clothing or equipment which the Company shall require employees to wear or use. Employees must use equipment or clothing as required by the Company.

The Company will not provide safety shoes or prescription glasses should they be required by the Company.

ARTICLE XXI - Funeral Pay

Section 1. An eligible employee who suffers the death of a member of the immediate family shall be granted a leave of absence of three (3) days off under Section 5(c) 1-4 and two (2) days off under Section 5(c) 5-11. Proof of the funeral date and relationship may be required.

Section 2. Leave of Absence as scheduled working time lost because of attendance at the funeral or to arrange the funeral shall be paid for at the rate of no more than eight (8) times the employee's then regular hourly straight time rate, up to the maximum of three (3) days off under Section 5(c) 1-4 and two (2) days off under Section 5(c) 5-11.

Section 3. If an eligible employee is notified of the death while at work and must leave work immediately, he will, upon notice to the Company, be permitted to leave and will be paid for the remainder of such day, up to a maximum of three (3) days off under Section 1 above.

Section 4. If the deceased is a member of the immediate family of more than one employee, they will, upon notice to the Company and subject to a maximum of two (2) employees, be permitted to leave work and will be paid for the remainder of the day, up to a maximum of eight (8) hours. However, all such employees will be eligible for the pay provided for in Section 2 of the Article.

Section 5. For purposes of this Article:

- (a) An "eligible employee" shall mean an employee having seniority who has at least six (6) months of continuous service, is actually on the active payroll at the time of the death and not on vacation, layoff or leave of absence, promptly notified the Company of the death, and if requested by the Company to do so, presents proof satisfactory to the Company of the death and funeral, his attendance at the funeral and the time spent in such attendance and the relationship of the deceased.

- (b) "Scheduled working time lost" shall mean the time consecutively and immediately following the death that the employee was actually scheduled to work but did not do so because of attendance at the funeral or making arrangements therefore shall not apply or be construed to apply to any time not used in attendance at the funeral or in making arrangements for the funeral or any time that the employee is not

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto affixed their signature the day and year first above written.

Helpful Hints

- Benefit payments for In-Network and Out-of-Network providers are based on the amount of the provider's charge that BlueCross and Blue Shield recognizes for payment of benefits, frequently referred to as allowed amount.
- To maximize benefits, use In-Network providers for services covered by your health benefit plan. In-Network providers are BlueCard PPO hospitals, physicians, pharmacies and other health care providers that contract with Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans for furnishing health care services at a reduced price.
- To find In-Network providers, check a provider directory, provider finder web site (www.bcbsal.com) or call 1-800-810-BLUE (2583). However, be aware that some benefits performed by an In-Network provider may be covered under "Benefits for Other Covered Services" or not at all.
- Out-of-Network providers generally do not contract with Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans. If you use Out-of-Network providers, you may be responsible for filing your own claims and you may have to pay the difference between the provider's charge and the allowed amount.
